

The Bible Adventure Book of Scavenger Hunts

Kelly Anne White

Thoughts for Your Pennies...

Hey, penny pincher! Here are 10 fun things you can do with those spare pennies that are hanging out in the far reaches of your pockets...

- 1) Super-glue pennies to the bottoms of an old pair of shoes at the toes and heels...and then do a little tap dance!
- 2) Place a white piece of paper on top of a penny, and rub it with a lead pencil to make an impression of the coin's image.
- 3) Make a mosaic, using pennies and other coins, by gluing to old plates or pieces of wood. Stretch the imagination!
- 4) Trace a checkerboard or tic-tac-toe grid into the dirt or sand, and use pennies as game pieces. One player has heads, the other tails.
- 5) Challenge kids to a penny toss! Just set out empty containers, Hula-Hoops, or upside-down Frisbees as targets, and let the games begin.
- 6) Invent your own scavenger hunt, one that requires players to follow trails of pennies to get to clues.
- 7) Wire-wrap pennies, and use them on a hanging mobile project (see Nature's Hang-up in Chapter 1).
- 8) Decoupage-glue a tiny image cut from a magazine—anything that inspires!—to a penny, and save it as a token reminder of God's love.
- 9) Place some pennies at the bottom of a mason jar, and drop in a votive candle for a copper-accented glow.
- 10) Put on a talent show, and charge only penny admission!

sbeagle/iStock/Thinkstock